BiblioGov. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 42 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.1in. In response to a congressional request, GAO provided information concerning the federal governments policies on polygraph testing and prepublication review procedures. GAO received responses from 41 agencies and found that: (1) an estimated 2.2 million federal and 1.4 million contractor employees held security clearances at the end of 1985, which was a decrease from 1984; (2) although the President suspended the review provision, employees still have to sign a lifetime prepublication review form before gaining access to sensitive compartmented information (SCI); (3) of the 138,245 current federal employees with SCI access, 125,088 were Department of Defense employees, and 1,332 were contractor employees; (4) while the number of employees involved in non-SCI special access programs declined slightly, the number of contractor employees more than doubled; (5) 10 agencies reported that, in 1984, they gave their employees and applicants for employment 15,428 polygraph examinations, while 8 agencies reported giving 18,213 such examinations in 1985; (6) the majority of the examinations occurred in connection with criminal or specific incident investigations; however, about 32 percent in 1984, and...

Reviews

An extremely wonderful pdf with perfect and lucid information. Better than never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
