Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Educational Survey of Laurens County, Georgia, Vol. 30 Laurens County is located a little southeast of the geographical center of the State of Georgia, at the head of navigation and on both sides of the Oconee river. The river being navigable up to Dublin, the county seat, affords to the county the benefits of water competition in freight rates. From the county seat railroads run out in six directions, and there are one thousand miles of public roads in the county, mostly good. As there is very little grading required and excellent materials for building clay-sand roads are close at hand, the cost of road maintenance is comparatively light. Many bridges are required, and these are being replaced with permanent first-class concrete under a recent $450,000.00 bond issue. In the big problem of transportation, therefore, Laurens County is exceptionally favored. The county has an area of seven hundred ninety-one square miles, or 506,240 acres, being the largest county in the state excepting only two or three in which there are large areas of swampy waste...
